

Questions to address before enrolling in a cancer clinical trial

- Are cancer clinical trials safe?
- How will participating in a trial benefit me?
- Will being part of a trial change my day-to-day life?
- How much will the trial cost me?
- Will the trial drug make me feel worse or hurt more than I currently feel?
- Will participation be an additional burden on top of what I'm already going through?
- Are there many trials available for the type of cancer I have?
- How do I decide which trial is the best for me?
- What are the possible benefits of this trial?
- What side effects might I experience?
- Have any other trials been done with this drug/treatment on people with the type of cancer that I have?
- Will I know if I'm getting the trial drug or standard-of-care treatment?
- Are there any biomarkers I should be tested for? Could that help me qualify for personalized clinical trials or therapies?
